

Help Out on State Natural Areas

Hogback Prairie Workdays

Fall seed collecting season has begun! Restoration is taking place on the prairie and your help is needed. The Driftless Area State Natural Area Crew is planning to plant some diverse prairies and we need your help! We will be collecting species like Indian grass, big bluestem, goldenrods, culver's root, and more! The seed will go towards enhancing completed brush work and new prairie plantings at the Hogback. If you cannot stay for the entire period, no problem, any amount of help is welcome! Bring a bag lunch, snack, and water. No skills needed, you will be trained onsite.

Dates: October 5, 12, and 19

Time: 10a – 3p (or whenever you can stay)

Directions: Meet at the Hogback homestead at 25581 Hughes Road Steuben, WI 54657. Google map

What to wear: Dress for the weather. Bring sturdy work boots and work gloves. If you have your own hand clippers and buckets, please bring them.

Contact, cancellation and RSVP info: If you plan to come please email Justin.Nooker@wisconsin.gov or call 920-360-1463. If you think the work day may be cancelled (weather, etc) please call or email Justin.
